A CALL TO PRAYER

Alabama has a Methodist Church at Verbona on Monday, June 21, began a daily tolling of its 80-year-old bell at 5 p.m. to call all who might hear it to halt in their activities and unite their prayers to God for the peace of the world. During the World War, 1914-18, the church rang its bell and many daily bowed with uncovered heads to devote themselves to world peace at the Throne of Grace. Someone in Verbona suggests that every city, town and hamlet in America take up the plan and let the church bell be the voice of prayer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To The Clipper, and Readers:
After some time, will again write a few lines and tell you I still read The Clipper with much interest. Always glad to get it, and right now I am thinking of the conditions that confront us today. The best I could say for the people to do is to "stay steady," and let everything take its course.

I think we have a man at the head of our Government who is able to take care of the situation in every sense of the word. I have the utmost confidence in Mr. Hoover, President, and I think if the people will just "keep cool," things will work out O. K. I hope so, at least.

I wish people would do more and say less. God has given us His blessed word that He is mighty and will prevail, and He is not slack concerning His promises, as men count slackness.

I have noticed one thing. In a general way, farming conditions are in as good shape as we could expect. I notice more corn and better corn than I have seen in several years. The peanut crop is simply fine. Cotton is looking good, but we are not so interested in cotton, anyway. The cry has been for several years for "cut" the cotton down. Then why should we want to make more?

I notice, too, the finest peach crop I have ever seen, also peaches and other fruit, and peas, would without end, and hogs and more hogs. Altogether, I think the Lord is blessing us and we should be very thankful.

As to the war, the Bible tells us that there will be wars and rumors of wars, so why worry? I am asking the people through The Clipper to "watch your step," put your trust in the Lord, and He will carry us through. Best wishes to all. Read The Clipper and keep posted.

Signed—J. V. T.

SHORT COURSE PLANNED FOR FREEZER MANAGERS

Plans have been completed for a two-day short course for operators of locker refrigerating plants to be held in Auburn July 17 and 18. State and national speakers will appear on the program. Alabama has 15 locker plants in operation and six others under construction.

Nearly one-half of Oregon's 60,000,000 acres is forest land. The California division of forestry had to cope with 8,800 forest and brush fires in 1939.

MAYBERRY REUNION

Mrs. J. T. Mayberry, wife of the late J. T. Mayberry, a number of her children and grandchildren, held their annual reunion at the home of Mrs. R. H. Dewberry on July 4th. Mrs. Dewberry is one of the grandchildren. We were sorry a few of the relatives could not be present on this occasion, but in spite of the rainy weather every one enjoyed a real nice time. It was not raining at the noon hour and a beautiful dinner was spread under a large tree in the yard.

Those present were: Alfred Hudson and family, R. D. Danly and family, Robert Flowers and wife, and Mrs. J. T. Mayberry, of Bell's Crossing. T. A. Mayberry of Picta, J. V. May and family, of Curtis, O. C. Smith, Barbara Smith and Mrs. Pink Vaughan, of Picta; Miss Sissy Bailey and little niece of Annalisa; C. V. Mays Moore and family of Basin.—By One Who Attended.

BEST WAY TO CONSERVE TOMATOES IS EXPLAINED

AUBURN, Ala.—It's tomato time in Alabama and time to start doing that budget of 60 cents for tomatoes for each grown person in the family, advises Lavada Curtis, extension food preservation specialist.

"No fruit or vegetable is more important than tomatoes," she says. It is one of the best single foods for supplying Vitamin A, B, C, and G, particularly Vitamin C. Because of the rich vitamin content it is invaluable to both children and adults.

In canning tomatoes or putting up tomato juice, these general rules hold good. Use only firm, ripe tomatoes, free from decay or green spots, since keeping quality and flavor are readily affected. Do as much of the heating process as possible in the water bath to preserve Vitamin C. Canned tomatoes should be packed cold and processed in the jar.

For canning tomato juice, it is best to hurry the process along and cook small lots at a time before sieving. The juice is seasoned with salt and sealed in sterilized containers and sealed. Process in boiling water, for five minutes.

For further information refer to the Food Preservation Bulletin—Circular No. 154.
